

Starting a Call/Meeting with TeleMeetUp

As long as you have an account and you are already signed-in on TeleMeetUp, hosting a meeting is as simple as ABC.

From the calls page, click on the icon that says Make Call, as shown in the following image.

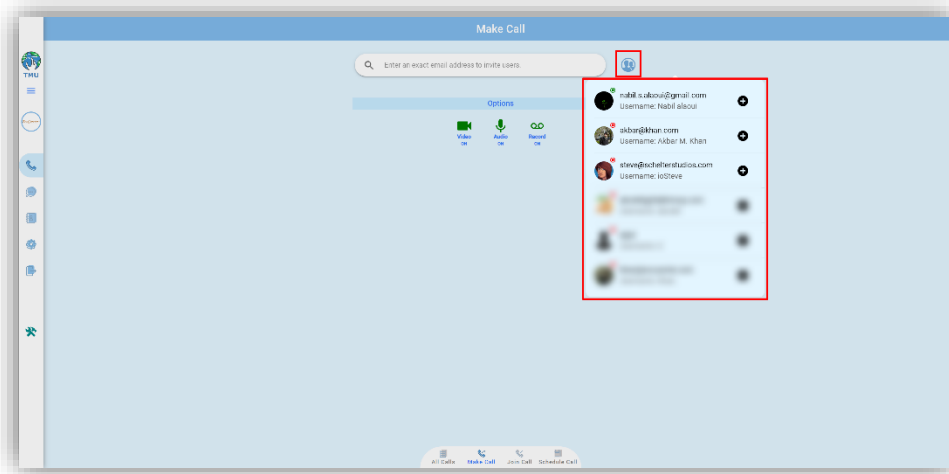

Select the corresponding options to keep the audio, video, and recording OFF or ON, and click on Start Call.

Please note that you can also enable/disable the audio, video, and recording during the actual session.

If you have friends in your contacts list, you can invite them while starting the call, and depending upon their availability (online/offline), they will get a ringing sound and/or notification in their email. To invite someone, simply click on the contacts icon, and choose the person you'd like to invite to the call.

Alternatively, once you are in the call, you can invite anyone by sharing the Call URL or Call Token for that call. To do that, click on the + icon, as shown in the following image. From the opened section, copy the Call URL or Call Token and send (Email/Text) it to someone you would like to invite.

Similarly, if you have someone already in your list of contacts, you can invite by typing in their email using the field that says "Search for a User" or by clicking on the contacts icon, and choosing from the drop-down list.
